

Dear Parents,

As the new Vice-Principal of East Hill Elementary, I too am just learning about how special this school is. At East Hill, we hold sacred the incredible responsibility entrusted to us by our parents. It is precisely for this reason that every member of our school shares in this responsibility. The quality of the education here at East Hill is a direct result of the incredible interaction between its educators, specialists, volunteers, support staff and most importantly, its parents. It is an equation that translates into a challenging and supportive educational environment where values are just as important as hard skills. Our students are a testament to this process.

I am honoured to count myself as a member of the East Hill family and I promise to contribute to its tradition of excellence.

For those already part of the East Hill community, I look forward to meeting with each and every one of you over the course of the school year. For parents who are considering enrolling their child to East Hill, we look forward to welcoming you at our school to discuss an East Hill education.
